

"A Man with a Heart for Youth"

John Stuart is a man with many hats; notably, he has a heart for Jesus and a heart for youth. John is an entrepreneur. He started a web design company at the age of 13 and has since grown his business and continues to expand! John has designed websites for companies/organizations including churches, motivational speakers, and well-known mental health agencies.

John has accomplished many things throughout the years. At the age of 17, he earned his Eagle Scout rank. He has become one of Ohio's first Certified Youth Peer Supporters. John has also received his CIT (Crisis Intervention Team) certificate, as well as Adult and Youth Mental Health First-Aid certificates. He has had the privilege of presenting on many panels about the importance of supporting youth and young adults. John has mentored many teens, helping them get back on their feet.

Speaking of having a heart to help...John has a passion for volunteering! He is a volunteer firefighter in his local community, he volunteers at multiple churches, and is part of many volunteer organizations, including the Ohio Crisis Response Team (OCRT).

His focus is helping young people find Jesus and become transformed by the renewing of their minds! With his education in mental health and learning about the brain development process, John plans to speak to young people about how to break free from addiction that is holding them captive and to start living a new life with Jesus Christ!
